Parent and Family Engagement

Research Shows:

When schools, families, and community groups work together to support learning, children tend to perform better in school, stay in school longer, and enjoy school more.

Parent and Family Engagement

Parent and Family Engagement means the participation of parents in regular, two-way, and meaningful communication that involves student learning and other school related activities.

Ways to be Involved

- Communicate: Keep in touch with your child's teacher through telephone, email, conferences, Parent Square and other various social media avenues.
- Be an example: Show your child that education is important by attending events, reading at home, and showing support for his/her progress in school.
- Learn: How to help your child with class work, homework, and future educational plans.
- Get Involved: Join or participate in School Advisory Council meetings and other parent/school organizations.

Parent and Family Engagement Plan is accessible on the school website.

Title I

Title I is a federally funded educational program designed to provide supplemental funds to school districts to assist schools in meeting educational goals.

Public law requires that all Title I Schools:

- Hold an annual meeting for parents to inform them of Title I and how it supports students' education.
- Involve parents in developing and revising the Parent and Family Engagement Plan and School-Parent Compact.
- Provide trainings and workshops to build capacity with parents and staff to raise student achievement and encourage parent participation in students' education.
- Utilize a percentage of Title I funds to support the Parent and Family Engagement program. The School Advisory Council provides input in determining how the funds are utilized.

Building Capacity

Altha School hosts events to build the capacity of parents to help their children at home. The goal of each activity is to assist parents in understanding the state's challenging academic standards.

School Advisory Council

The School Advisory Council (SAC) is a school based group that shares the responsibility for supporting the school's continuous improvement through the implementation of a School Improvement Plan (SIP). The SAC:

- Provides input on how Title I funds are used on Parent and Family Involvement at the school.
- Provides input in writing the Parent and Family Involvement Plan.
- Recommends programs and activities that will build capacity in the school and improve parent participation.
- Reviews the content and effectiveness of the Parent and Family Involvement plan annually.

School-Parent Compact

The School-Parent Compact is a written agreement...

- That describes the shared responsibility of parents and families, school staff, and students for improved student achievement.
- That stresses the importance of frequent two-way communication between home and school.
- That affirms the importance of parents and families in decisions related to their student's education.
- Is reviewed, revised, and signed each year by parents and school staff.
